Pablo's story,

Bro. Pablo was driving home from his secular full time job from one of the banks in the city. Not only does he have a full time job, he also teaches nights at our Seminary and is one of our national pastors, helping us establish churches and be a witness to the lost in his area. He is passionate about sharing the Gospel! A few weeks ago, he was driving from work when he saw several of the local policemen beating a young man. He parked his car and got out, yelling at the police officers to stop while many just ignored the obvious brutality. Pablo yelled again at the officers, "Hey, he may be a crook, but he is a human, stop this", then un-expectedly, the police turned on Pablo. Within minutes he was knocked down, cuffed and arrested, yet they were the lawbreakers. What they were doing was illegal. The Policemen said that Pablo had hit some of the officers, after spending most of the night in jail that was proved to be false. Pablo has a camera on the front of his car and now the officers are under investigation for several injustices. As Pablo and the thief spent time in the jail together he began to witness and share the gospel with the young man, in the rising of the sun in the early hours of the day, the young man confessed his guilt to a judge and made another confession to Christ now his savior.

God is great. Sandy and I are so thankful to be used in so many ministries. Church planting, starting a church in Coronado and now in Ciudad Colon, a Bible College in Calleblancos, and a few new ministries. We are helping about 180 missionaries to have free domain names and a server for them to create their own web sites. Sandy is doing exciting things helping the ladies to mature in Christ with monthly meetings and other activities to reach our community for Christ and I am now serving also as the Chaplain for the U.S. Marine Corps in Costa Rica. Meeting once a month, praying and sharing our Lord in many ways. Thank you for your prayers and support, there are so many stories we could share with you about changed lives.
